After 18 years in Norwell, I look back at my life with few regrets. Many people have helped me succeed in life thus far. For not only high school, but for middle, elementary, and pre-school, I have to thank my parents. With their love and support, and forgiveness I have learned from my mistakes and have made great achievements. There was never a time my parents weren't supporting me in everything I did. I thank my older brother so much. Nate, you have always been a great role model for me and I hope you the best in college, life, and beyond. My younger brother has always been around to listen to me, help me with my problems, and criticize me when I'm doing something wrong. Ben, I wish you the best for the rest of your high school years. I'd like to thank my friends, especially Caroline, for making high school not only bearable but as fun as high school could be. Thanks to my swim tea, especially Jane and Bridgey, for pushing me to work harder. I love you! To my youth group family- you've made Sunday nights and April vacations unforgettable. Meg, Heather, and Brandon- I cannot describe all that you mean to me. I love you all so much. Never forget our lessons learned. Good luck class of '09- we're gonna do great things!

This all seems a little off schedule- I never thought the time to write my thank-you's would arrive so quickly. Well, I guess since I have to fit it all into one little paragraph...Spanky, Annalicious, Stubby, Uber Baby and Sparklebutt (among others): you guys are super amazing; I simply would not have been able to get through high school without the madness and idiocy that is our friendship. Mamo, Tato the both of you have been just unbelievably tolerant of my random changes of interest and I just want to thank you for supporting-both mentally and financially- the decisions I'd made on a whim...even if I hadn't always been there to empty the dishwasher. Nie wiem jak was podziekowac za cale moje zycie. Kocham was bez koncu! Also, Mr. Sullivan, you've been awesome tolerating us Amnesty kids, I know we must be very obnoxious more often than not. I have become a stronger person not from unbridled support alone, but also from those who provided obstacles to overcome. Thank you to all my teachers who successfully dealt with me, my family for supporting me in all my endeavors, and my friends for the countless stories. Through my years in Norwell I have made some great friendships, more than I ever had in Hingham, including Ryan Byrnes, Patrick Byrnes, Nick Carton, Tom Smith, Garret Murphy, Dan Burke and Andrew Devine. I'd especially like to thank Mr. Willis for taking me under his wing, during the first days of freshman year, something he doesn't do for most freshmen, or most anyone for that matter. I'm further grateful for your kindness and I've really enjoyed giving you the weather forecast just about every morning these last four years. If there's one piece of advice I can give to people reading this, it's that in a moment your life can change forever, so take advantage of any of the opportunities that come your way, unlike I did during my first 3 years of high school, a fact I regret everyday. But I still have some great memories of my time in Norwell and am a firm believer the best is yet to come.

Golf

The golf team had another successful season, winning the South Shore League title. The team was led by senior captain Kris McIntosh and junior Eric Scott. The team, composed of many juniors, will combine with the promising sophomore teammates moving up from JV for the 2009 season.

Football

This season the team was led by senior captains Josh Adams, Forrest Detwiler, Mike Lodigiani, and Dan VanLeuvan. Despite the fact that the team lost many seniors and were plagued with injuries throughout the season, they showed determination and played several tight games. The football team will continue to improve with some talented underclassmen and Coach Sullivan is looking forward to next year.
